

Dr. Kanopporn Wonggarasin, Assistant Professor

Telephone number: +662 800 2308 ext -3321

E-mail: kanopporn@gmail.com

Biography

Dr. Kanopporn Wonggarasin is a lecturer in the MA Cultural Studies Programme at RILCA. She also teaches in the Linguistics and Multicultural studies programmes. Her background is in Creative Psychology and Indian studies.

Research Interests

- Psychology, particularly analytical psychology in rite and creed of ethnic groups
- Indian Studies
- Community development and well-being

Selected Publications

Wongkalasin, Kanopporn. 2017. From Indian Mind to Thai Heart. In India – Thailand Cultural Interaction, (ed). Lipi Ghosh, pp. 101 - 109. Singapore: Springer.

Wonggarasin, Kanopporn. 2015. Indian Local Self-Government: From Village Elders to Ministry of Panchyati Ra. Songklanakarinn 21(4) : 3-51. (full paper in Thai)

Teaching

LCCS 513	Seminar on Contemporary Social and Cultural Issues
LCCS 516	Critical Theory in Cultural Studies
LCCS 515	Research Design in Cultural Studies
LCCS 514	Practicum
LCCS 578	Social and Cultural Issues in Contemporary India Context

Expertise and Public Engagement

Dr. Kanopporn Wonggarasin has worked and presented on various community-based projects focusing on its organization and well-being including

2008

- Creed in Village

2007

- Community and Its Own Characteristic

2006

- Emotional Expression the Emblem through Nonverbal Language Explicit by Community Traditional Ceremonies 1998

2005

- Learning Modern and Local Knowledge; From Classroom to Community
- Creativity: The Power of Thought from Meditation